17 year-old Jake Griffin returns to MB Motorsports to drive the #63 Advanced Trading / Backlot Auctions Chevy Silverado in the UNOH 200 at Bristol Motor Speedway.

"Bristol is one of the tracks every short track racer in America dreams of racing at," says the young man from Quincy, IL. "I can't wait to race the Advanced Trading / Backlot Auctions Chevy there."

Advance Trading, Inc. (ATI) is a forward thinking, non-proprietary commodity brokerage firm providing risk management and market guidance to grain producers, commercial elevators, and end users including energy producers and livestock feeders. ATI's client base spans the entire globe, with businesses throughout North America, South America, Europe, Africa, Asia and the Middle East. Their highly skilled team delivers individualized strategies, sound advice and solid recommendations based on extensive research and market analysis, giving their clients a competitive edge in today's complex marketplace.

ATI takes pride in maintaining objectivity. They do not buy or sell grain; instead they provide an impartial analysis along with the kind of grassroots perspective that most brokerage houses can only dream about. From locally focused coverage to national and international exposure, ATI's growth has been a remarkable success story and our prospects for the future remain strong.

According to Brent Nugent of Backlot Auctions, "The company was created to make it simple for dealers to buy and sell vehicles on the internet.
